NEW COURSE FOR SPRING 2017

Do you like explaining science and your research to non-scientists and scientists in other fields?

Public Science Communication Seminar
NSCI 320/520

Learn more about the techniques used in effective public science communication in this seminar series featuring Rice faculty and outside speakers. Speakers will include journalists, museum curators, public affairs specialists, and those who communicate through writing, speaking events, radio, video, and social media.

Mondays 4-4:50 PM
1 credit hour

RICE